Before too long, her father died, her stepmother was very bad to her. She worked hard in the daytime, and slept by the hearth in the ashes. She always looked dusty and dirty, so she was called Cinderella.

One day, the king was going to hold a grand dancing party to select a princess for the wife, and he invited the young girls throughout the country.The two daughters of the stepmother were very happy, they hurried to ask Cinderella to dress and make up them.

Cinderella also wished to attend the dancing party, but her stepmother said on purpose, "You can attend as long as you finish your work."

The stepmother poured a bowl of beans into the ashes, and asked Cinderella to pick them out before attending the dancing party. Seeing the beans in the ashes, Cinderella wept and picked them one by one.A flock of pigeons flied came and helped her.

The stepmother and her daughters were going to start off, and the stepmother said," Cinderella, are you ready?" Cinderella shook her head sadly. They three got on a carriage, and ran to the palace, only left pitiful Cinderella.

Cinderella hid in the park and wept, a fairy godmother flied to her side, raised her wand and said, "pitiful girl, let me help you!" The fairy godmother threw about her wand, and then silvering powder dropped from the cloud and turned into four steeds and a gorgeous carriage.

And then, the fairy godmother waved her wand on the head of Cinderella, produced the gorgeous evening dress and a pair of crystal shoes for Cinderella.

Cinderella said happily, "Thank you very much!" and the fairy godmother replied, "Remember, when clock struck twelve at night the magic will cease."

When Cinderella entered into the dancing hall, all eyesights were attracted. The prince invited Cinderella for dancing politely. And they danced one song after another, and soon it was near to twelve o′clock.

Cinderella hurried to run down the steps, but she lost a crystal shoe in panic. When the clock struck twelve, magic ceased, as said by the fairy godmother.

The prince wanted to chase Cinderella, but she disappeared in a blink only left a crystal shoe behind. The second day, the ministers took that delicate shoe to find the girl who can wear it.

At this time, Cinderella walked there, and tried the shoe, and only to find it was very fit. The stepmother and her two daughters turned to white with anger.
